Billy Garth's Rose Water took the first race in a hard drive from Bob Redfield, while the favorite Penance, owing to a poor ride, was in the ruck. Joe Knight was winner of the second, and he was the surprise of the afternoon. As good as 20 to 1 was quoted against him. He won because he was best, but his winning broke up a big coup. "Snapper" Garrison, former jockey, had planned to make a killing with tell Mahdi, Joe Marone's horse, and it was only by a nose in the last jump that he failed.

The third race went to Yodeling, there was a surprise of selding, which he naturally prefers the right handers.

Gilbert hit a fly to Rondeau made a perfect throw on a line to Foster, who, without hesitating, whirled and whipped it to Ainsmith, who nailed Connelly as he tried to slide into the plate. That play retired the side after the Braves had scored two runs and had gained what looked to be a comfortable lead.

Joe Connelly walked the first time he faced Johnson and the next time up he hit to the scoreboard for three bases. But he did not have any luck against Ayers, who struck him out on the two occasions he faced him, and on one of these occasions, in the eighth, there were men on second and third and one out when the Braves' best hitter fanned.

It is a fortunate thing for Hank Gowdy that he has a good, strong head, for had he possessed a weak one he might have been fatally injured in the first inning of yesterday's game.

Hess, who was pitching, had Moeller up and had just fooled him with a curve which had been called a strike. Moeller turned to question the decision of the umpire and Hess quickly wound up and shot a fast one through the middle of the plate. Gowdy was just arranging his fingers for the next signal when the ball struck him on the top of the head. It struck solidly and fell dead at his feet, but never feazed him.

Note—The bogey for the course is 40 each way, the distance, normally, 6,089 yards, but with extended championship tees, fully 6,290 yards. Guilford first came into national prominence at last year's amateur championship with a victory over Fred Herreshoff. At fourteen years of age he was New Hampshire state champion, a title which he has won three years since.

He is only twenty years old, but he has the strength of a man, and his driving is the sensational feature of his game. Further, he is right on the job every minute, and he plays with marked ease and grace.

Golf has been made possible for Guilford by E. M. Slayton, a wealthy resident of his home town, Manchester, N. H. "I can't play golf, but the boy can," says Unde Ed, "and I mean to see that he has a chance."

Guilford spent the week past at Fox Hills as the guest of W. E. Truesdell, a prominent member of that club.
